After the morning (fajr) ritual prayer:

1. O God! You are the Source of Peace, and all peace comes from You. Blessed are You and Exalted, Possessor of Majesty and Bounty!

And then:

2. Glory be to God! (Subhan Allah) Praise be to God! (Al-hamdu lillah) There is no god but God (La ilaha illallah), God is the Greatest (Allahu Akbar), and there is no strength or power except in God, the All-High, the All-Mighty. (La hawla wa la quwwata illa billah, Al 'Aliyyu, Al 'Azim).

1. Then one recites the Verse of the Throne (Ayat al-Kursi):

"God! There is no god but He, the All-Living, the Self-Subsistent. Neither does slumber overtake Him nor sleep, and to Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and the earth. Who can intercede with Him except by His leave? He knows what is before them and what is behind them, and they comprehend of His knowledge only that which He wills. His Throne encompasses the heavens and the earth, and maintaining them both tires Him not. He is the Exalted, the Sublime." (Baqara 2:255)

2. Then one says:

Glory be to God! (Subhan Allah) (33) Praise be to God! (Al-hamdu lillah) (33), God is the Greatest! (Allahu Akbar) (33).

3. Then one supplicates with what comes to the heart from God, after which one invokes a hundred times:

"There is no god but God." (La ilaha illallah)

Then the following is said:

1. I seek refuge in God from Satan the accursed.

In the name of God the Merciful, the Compassionate.

2. O God! You are my Lord, there is no god but You. You have created me, and I am Your servant. I try my best to keep my covenant with You. I seek refuge in You from the evil of what I have done. I acknowledge Your favors upon me and I acknowledge my sins. So, forgive me, for truly no one forgives sins except You. (3)

3. In the Name of God, by Whose Name nothing in Earth or in the heaven can do any harm, and He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing. (3)

1. I take refuge in the perfect words of God from the evil of what He created.

2. I seek refuge in God, the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing from Satan the accursed. (3)

3. In the name of God the Merciful, the Compassionate.

"He is God besides Whom there is no other god; Knower of the Unseen and the visible. He is the All-Merciful, the All-Compassionate. * He is God, there is no god but He; the Sovereign, the All-Holy, the Source of Peace, the Source of Security; the Guardian, the All-Mighty; the Compeller, the Majestic. Transcendent is He above all that they ascribe as partner (to Him)! *

He is God; the Creator, the Producer, the Fashioner (Who has brought His creatures to existence and fashioned them in the best form and perfect harmony, making them undergo different phases).

His are the most beautiful names. All that is in the heavens and the earth glorifies Him. He is the All-Mighty, the All-Wise." (Hashr 59:22-4)

1."Say: He is God, the One and Only; *

God, the Absolute, Eternal; *

He begets not, nor is He begotten. *

And there is none like unto Him." (Ikhlas 112) (3 times)

2. "Say: I take refuge in the Lord of the Daybreak, *

From the evil of what He created, *

From the evil of the night as its darkness overspreads, *

From the evil of those who blow on knots, *

And from the evil of an envier when he envies." (Falaq 113) (3 times)

3. "Say: I take refuge in the Lord of humankind, *

The King of humankind, *

The God of humankind, *

From the evil of the sneaking whisperer *

Who whispers in the breasts of humankind,*

From jinn and humankind." (Nas 114) (3 times)

1. "So glorify God when you enter the night and when you rise in the morning. * To Him belongs all praise in the heavens and the earth, in the late afternoon and when you enter midday. * He brings forth the living from the dead, and He brings forth the dead from the living; even so shall you be brought forth." (Rum 30:17-19)
2. O God! By Your grace we entered the day, by Your grace we reached the evening, by Your grace we live, by Your leave we die and unto You is the resurrection.
3. All praise be to God Who revived us after death and unto Him is the resurrection.

3. O God! Whatever words I have uttered, oaths I have sworn, vows I have made, or deeds I have done, all depends on Your will. Whatever You willed was and whatever You willed not was not. There is no strength or power except in You, and truly You have power over all things.

1. O God! Let whomsoever I have invoked blessings on, be those whom You have blessed, and whomsoever I invoked curses on, be those whom You have cursed. Verily You are my protector in this life and in the Hereafter, so take my soul as a Muslim and join me with the righteous.
 2. O God! I ask You for contentment with what You decree, a life of bliss after death, the joy of beholding Your Countenance, and longing for the meeting with You, safe from injury by what is harmful and from any trial that might cause me to go astray.
- I seek refuge in You from wronging others and being wronged, from committing aggression and being the object of aggression, and from committing an error or committing a sin which is not forgiven.

1. O God, the Originator of the heavens and the earth, Knower of the unseen and the manifest, Lord of Majesty and Bounty! Truly I have pledged faith in You in this life, and I bear witness before You, for sufficient are You as witness.
2. Verily I bear witness that there is no god but You, alone without partners. Yours is the dominion, to You is all praise and You have power over all things.

(O All-Living, Self-Subsistent [Lord!]) Ya Hayyu Ya Qayyum! For the sake of Your Mercy I beg for help. Rectify for all my states and leave me not to myself even for the blinking of an eye! O God! You are the most worthy of remembrance and the most worthy of worship. You are the best helper of all those who are sought [for help], the most compassionate of owners, the most generous of those who are petitioned, and the most liberal of those who give. You are not obeyed except by Your leave and You are not disobeyed except in Your knowledge. When You are obeyed You reward in return, and when You are disobeyed You are forgiving. You are the closest Witness and the nearest Protector. You block [desires of] selves, and You grasp them by the neck. You have recorded their actions and set down their last moments.

1. Hearts incline to You, and with You all that is secret is open to view. The lawful is only that which You have made lawful, and the forbidden is only that which You have forbidden. 3. O God! I ask you for sudden [outpourings of] goodness and I seek refuge in You from sudden [assaults of] evil.

4. O God! I have risen this morning with grace, good health and concealment [of my sins], so complete Your blessing on me, Your protection of me and Your concealment [of my sins] in this world and the Hereafter.

3. O God! I seek refuge in You from the evil of my self and from the evil of every creature in Your grasp: "Verily my Lord is upon a Straight Path." (Hud 11:56)

2. O God! Verily I ask You for a soul that is at rest and contentment with You, believing in the meeting with You, content with Your decree, and satisfied with what You bestow.
