1. I take refuge in the perfect words of God from the evil of what He created.
2. O earth! My Lord and your Lord is God. I seek refuge in God from your evil, the evil that is in you, the evil of that which was created on you, and the evil of all that crawls on your surface.
3. O God! I seek refuge in You from lions, snakes and scorpions, from the inhabitants of this land, and from those who beget and what they beget.
